Senior Vice President, Government Affairs

Last year, I joined Aetna as Senior Vice President, Government Affairs. One of the primary goals the Government Affairs team has this year is to educate legislators and the new Obama Administration about our company and the policy issues that affect our bottom line and ability to operate. We do this by meeting with Federal and State representatives and their staffs, through our employee-driven grassroots program, and through the Aetna Political Action Committee—Aetna PAC.

Aetna PAC is a bipartisan political action committee, which allows eligible company employees to have a voice with legislators on the Federal and State levels who make laws and policy that have a direct impact on the way the company does business. Its purpose is to support candidates for political office by collecting voluntary contributions from eligible Aetna employees. All contributions are received and disbursed pursuant to our internal contribution guidelines and in accordance with applicable election laws.

In January of 2008, Aetna's Federal and State PACs started with a combined balance of $307,685. During 2008, eligible Aetna Employees contributed an additional $472,705. Throughout the year, the PACs disbursed $418,700 to Federal and State candidates, party (and other) committees and leadership PACs that share our company's interests. As the enclosed statement of cash receipts and disbursements indicates, Aetna PAC began 2009 with $360,817 available for political disbursements.

Also during 2008, Aetna Inc. contributed $185,831 in direct corporate contributions to state candidates and party committees in 12 states and the District of Columbia where such corporate contributions are permitted.

Aetna is an active participant in the political process at all levels of government through Aetna PAC, corporate contributions and corporate political activity, including advocating our views before government bodies directly or indirectly through consultants, trade associations and various coalitions.

This report details the political contributions and activity relating to Aetna PAC and Aetna Inc.

Steve Kelmar
Chairman, Aetna Inc. Political Action Committee

Political contribution process and policy

Aetna PAC

Aetna Inc. sponsors a Political Action Committee (Aetna PAC) which is authorized to contribute to federal candidates, parties and committees, and to state candidates, parties and committees in most states; all administrative expenses are paid by Aetna Inc. as specifically allowed by law. Aetna PAC is controlled by a Board of Directors (drawn from various segments of the Company). Aetna PAC is managed by three principal officers (Chairman, Treasurer & Counsel and Administrator) and utilizes separate Contributions Committees to make state or federal disbursement decisions. Aetna PAC is governed by federal law (Federal Election Campaign Act) and various state laws where Aetna PAC is registered to make state political contributions.

Aetna Inc. also sponsors separate but related state PACs in New York (Aetna PAC-New York) and Michigan (Aetna PAC-Michigan) because those states require such separate registration. The control and management of these two separate PACs is the same as Aetna PAC. Aetna PAC-New York is funded by corporate funds from Aetna Inc. subsidiaries as permitted by New York state law. Aetna PAC-Michigan is funded by employee contributions.

Corporate Contributions

Aetna Inc. is permitted to contribute corporate dollars to state and local candidates in many, but not all states, and the company does so in part to better leverage the availability of Aetna PAC dollars. In 2008, such corporate contributions were made in 12 states and the District of Columbia. The Management of Aetna PAC (PAC Board, Officers and Committees) exercises the same oversight, managerial and operational control over Aetna Inc. corporate contributions and related activity as applicable to Aetna PAC.

Management

The Chairman, Treasurer, and Administrator of Aetna PAC are responsible for the day-to-day management of Aetna PAC. These officers are responsible for the solicitation of contributions to and the disbursement of funds from Aetna PAC consistent with state and federal laws, with the contribution policies and criteria of the Aetna PAC By-Laws, and with the Aetna PAC process applicable to such political contributions.

Contribution Policy & Criteria

The Contributions Committee is composed of state and federal government relations personnel. It considers a number of criteria when making contribution decisions: the candidate's understanding of and support for the free enterprise system; the candidate's need for Aetna PAC assistance; the presence of Aetna employees, facilities or resources in the candidate's district or state; the candidate's demonstrated leadership or potential for leadership; the candidate's committee assignments and seniority within Congress or state government; the candidate's involvement with and position on issues affecting health care and related group benefits; the likelihood of the candidate's election success; and recommendations by Aetna PAC members.

Process

Each contribution goes through a legal approval process to ensure that Aetna PAC complies with federal and state campaign finance and related laws and the Aetna PAC By-Laws. The process for disbursing funds is virtually the same whether the contribution is from Aetna PAC or Aetna Inc. corporate funds. Recommendations for supporting a candidate or a committee are submitted from all areas of the Company and frequently come from state or local company personnel who work in government relations. The recommendation is sent to the State or Federal Government Affairs Contributions Committee which meets in-person, by phone or email to discuss and vote on such matters. The approved recommendation is then reviewed by the in-house Aetna PAC Counsel and outside Legal Counsel, if necessary, for legal and campaign finance law compliance purposes. When certified as "legal," the paperwork is processed (by the PAC Administrator for Aetna PAC or by Corporate Accounting for corporate funds) and a check is drawn and delivered.

This same management oversight, political contribution policy and contribution process applies as well to corporate contributions from Aetna Inc.

The Audit Committee of the Aetna Inc. Board of Directors annually reviews the political contributions and political activities of Aetna PAC and Aetna Inc. and oversees compliance with the overall policy, process and contributions criteria with respect to such contributions or activity.

Aetna PAC and Aetna PAC-New York are audited annually. The results of that audit and the Aetna PAC Annual Report are sent to the members of the Audit Committee of the Aetna Inc. Board of Directors.

Contributions to candidates

State contributions include PAC and Corporate contributions.

Related political activity

Aetna utilizes multiple resources to advocate and advance its position on public policy issues within the State and Federal political, legislative and regulatory environments. To this end, in 2008 Aetna spent $4,809,816 on state lobbying expenses and $2,438,697 on federal lobbying expenses.¹

Aetna does not make or engage in independent political expenditure activity as defined under federal election law.

In 2008, Aetna Inc. also spent $90,000 on various partisan tax-exempt research and policy organizations.

In 2008 Aetna spent a total of $3,155,123 on dues and other payments to multiple state and federal trade associations and coalitions of which $880,908 was allocated to non-deductible lobbying activity. Within this category there are 14 organizations whose total dues or payments exceeded $50,000 for 2008. They are listed to the right.

¹ State and Federal lobbying expenses include employee compensation including overhead, outside consultant fees, research grants, and dues and other payments to trade associations, coalitions and similar organizations relating to lobbying activity.
