EMPLOYER ACKNOWLEDGMENT – Employer waiting period

The Affordable Care Act and subsequent federal regulations prohibit group health plans and health insurance issuers from requiring any eligible plan participants and beneficiaries (employees and dependents) to wait no more than 90 days before their health coverage goes into effect.

- The regulations define the group health plan as the Employer or plan administrator.
- The regulations define the issuer as the insurance company.
- Since the requirement applies to both the group health plan and the issuer, each party's obligation is satisfied if the 90 day waiting period is honored. However, if either party doesn't comply, both are subject to a penalty.
- I agree to provide the following information of the plan participants and beneficiaries to Banner|Aetna:
 - Effective date information
 - Eligibility
 - Waiting period required under federal law
