

Important Health Care Reform Information

The enclosed statements only apply to plans that are new or renewed with effective dates on or after 9/23/2010, and which are subject to the federal Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act (PPACA).

As a result of the federal Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act (PPACA), there are wording changes that may not be included on the enrollment form. This may be because the revisions are still pending regulatory review and approval. However, please note that Aetna is administering plans that are subject to the law in compliance with the applicable components of PPACA.

The following is a summary of the requirements under PPACA that impact this form.

- If your Plan includes a pre-existing condition limitation, including one that may apply to transplant coverage, then this provision will not apply to a covered individual under 19 years of age.
- The eligibility rules for dependent children have been changed. A dependent child will now be eligible to enroll if he or she is under 26 years of age (or longer, where state law applies). Any rule that they be a full-time student, not married or solely dependent upon you for support will not apply (state laws may include restrictions on eligibility for children, age 26 or older). Please Note: For grandfathered group health plans beginning prior to January 1, 2014, if your child (under age 26) is eligible for employer based coverage other than through a parent's plan, then that child may not be eligible to enroll in this Plan. Contact your employer for further information.
