Understanding your plan of benefits

Aetna is committed to Accreditation by the National Committee for Quality Assurance (NCQA) as a means of demonstrating a commitment to continuous quality improvement and meeting customer expectations. A complete list of health plans and their NCQA status can be found on the NCQA website located at <http://reportcard.ncqa.org>.

Where to find information about your specific plan

Most of the information in this booklet applies to all plans, but some does not. For example, not all plans have deductibles or prescription drug benefits. Your “plan documents” list all the details for the plan you chose. This includes what’s covered, what’s not covered and what you will pay for services. Plan document names vary. They may include a Schedule of Benefits, Summary Plan Description (SPD), and Summary of Material Modification (SMM) and/or any updates that come with them.

If you can’t find your plan documents, call your employer to ask for a copy. Your employer, and not Aetna, is responsible for providing copies of plan documents like SPDs and SMMs to plan participants.

Get plan information online and by phone

If you’re already enrolled in an Aetna® health plan

You have three convenient ways to get plan information anytime, day or night:

1. Log in to your secure member website

You can get coverage information for your plan online. You can also get details about any programs, tools and other services that come with your plan. Just register once to create a user name and password. Have your Aetna ID card handy. Then visit aetna.com and click “Log In.” Follow the prompts to complete the one-time registration.

Then you can log in any time to:

- Verify who’s covered and what’s covered
- Track claims or view past copies of Explanation of Benefits statements
- Use our cost-of-care tools so you can know before you go
- Learn more about and access any programs that come with your plan

2. Use your mobile device to access a streamlined version of our secure member website

Go to your Play Store (Android) or App Store (iPhone) and search for Aetna Mobile. You can also text APPS to 23862 to download.

Here’s just some of what you can do from Aetna® Mobile:

- View alerts and messages
- View your claims, coverage and benefits
- View your ID card information
- Use the Member Payment Estimator
- Contact us by phone or email

Aetna is the brand name used for products and services provided by one or more of the Aetna group of subsidiary companies. Health benefits and health insurance plans are offered, underwritten and/or administered by Aetna Health Inc., Aetna Health Insurance Company and/or Aetna Life Insurance Company.

3. Call Member Services at the toll-free number on your Aetna ID card

As an Aetna member you can use the Aetna Voice Advantage® self-service options to:

- Verify who's covered under your plan
- Find out what's covered under your plan
- Get an address to mail your claim and check a claim status
- Find out other ways to contact Aetna
- Order a replacement Aetna ID card
- Be transferred to behavioral health services (if included in your plan)

You can also speak with a representative to:

- Understand how your plan works or what you will pay
- Get information about how to file a claim
- File a complaint or appeal
- Connect to behavioral health services (if included in your plan)
- Find specific health information

Not yet enrolled?

For help understanding how a particular medical plan works, you should review your Summary of Benefits and Coverage document or contact your employer or benefits administrator.

Help for those who speak another language and for the hearing impaired

If you require language assistance, please call the Member Services number on your Aetna ID card, and an Aetna representative will connect you with an interpreter. You can also get interpretation assistance for utilization management issues or for registering a complaint or appeal. If you're deaf or hard of hearing, use your TTY and dial 711 for the Telecommunications Relay Service. Once connected, please enter or provide the Aetna telephone number you're calling.

Ayuda para las personas que hablan otro idioma y para personas con impedimentos auditivos

Si usted necesita asistencia lingüística, por favor llame al número de Servicios al Miembro que figura en su tarjeta de identificación de Aetna, y un representante de Aetna le conectará con un intérprete. También puede recibir asistencia de interpretación para asuntos de administración de la utilización o para registrar una queja o apelación. Si usted es sordo o tiene problemas de audición, use su TTY y marcar 711 para el Servicio de Retransmisión de Telecomunicaciones (TRS). Una vez conectado, por favor entrar o proporcionar el número de teléfono de Aetna que está llamando.

What you pay

You will share in the cost of your health care. These are called “out-of-pocket” costs. These costs vary and your plan may not include all of them. Your plan documents show the amounts that apply to your specific plan. Those costs may include:

- Copay – A set amount (for example, $25) you pay for a covered health care service. You usually pay this when you get the service. The amount can vary by the type of service. For example, you may pay a different amount to see a specialist than you would pay to see your family doctor.
- Coinsurance – Your share of the costs for a covered service. This is usually a percentage (for example, 20 percent) of the allowed amount for the service. For example, if the health plan’s allowed amount for an office visit is $100 and you’ve met your deductible, your coinsurance payment of 20 percent would be $20. The health plan pays the rest of the allowed amount.
- Deductible – The amount you owe for health care services before your health plan begins to pay. For example, if your deductible is $1,000, you have to pay the first $1,000 for covered services before the plan begins to pay. You may not have to pay the deductible for some services.

Other deductibles may apply at the same time:

- Inpatient Hospital Deductible – Applies when you are a patient in a hospital
- Emergency Room Deductible – The amount you pay when you go to the emergency room, waived if you are admitted to the hospital within 24 hours.

Note: These are separate from your general deductible. For example, your plan may have a $1,000 general deductible and a $250 emergency room deductible. This means you pay the first $1,000 before the plan pays anything. Once the plan starts to pay, if you go to the emergency room you will pay the first $250 of that bill.

These are generic terms and definitions. Check your specific plan’s SPD for the definitions used in your plan.

* The specific goals will vary from network to network.

How the plan pays your doctors and other health care providers

Doctors and hospitals set the rates to charge you. It may be higher — sometimes much higher — than what your Aetna plan “recognizes” or “allows.” Your doctor may bill you for the dollar amount the plan doesn’t “recognize.” No dollar amount above the “recognized charge” counts toward your deductible or out-of-pocket limits. This means you are fully responsible for paying everything above the amount the plan allows for a service or procedure.

The plan pays for your health care depending on the plan design you or your employer chooses. Some plans pay for services by looking at what Medicare would pay and adjusting that amount up or down. Plans range from paying 90 percent of Medicare (that is, 10 percent less than Medicare would pay) to 300 percent of Medicare (the Medicare rate multiplied by three). Some plans pay for services based on what is called the “usual and customary” charge or “reasonable amount” rate. These plans use information from FAIR Health, Inc., a not-for-profit company, that reports how much providers charge for services in any ZIP code.

You can call Member Services at the toll-free number on your Aetna ID card to find out the method your plan uses to reimburse doctors and other health care providers. You can also ask for an estimate of your share of the cost for services you are planning. See “Emergency and urgent care and after hours care” to learn more.

Precertification: Getting approvals for services

Sometimes we will pay for care only if we have given an approval before you get it. We call that “precertification.” You usually only need precertification for more serious care like surgery or being admitted to a hospital. Your doctor may get precertification from us, but it’s your responsibility to either call us or have your doctor call us for precertification when that’s required.

Your plan documents list all the services that require you to get precertification. If you don’t, you will have to pay for all or a larger share of the cost for the service.

Notice: You must personally bear all costs if you use health care not authorized by this plan or purchase drugs that are not authorized by this plan.

Call the number on your Aetna ID card to begin the process. You must get the precertification before you receive the care.

You do not have to get precertification for emergency services.

What we look for when reviewing a request

First, as your self-funded plan's claims administrator, we check to see that you are still a member. And we make sure the service is considered medically necessary for your condition. We also make sure the service and place requested to perform the service are cost effective. Our decisions are based entirely on appropriateness of care and service and the existence of coverage, using nationally recognized guidelines and resources. We may suggest a different treatment or place of service that is just as effective but costs less. We also look to see if you qualify for one of our care management programs. If so, one of our nurses may contact you.

Precertification does not verify if you have reached any plan dollar limits or visit maximums for the service requested. So, even if you get approval, the service may not be covered.

Review process after precertification (Utilization Review/ Patient Management)

The patient management program can help you access appropriate health care and maximize coverage for those health care services. In certain situations, your case is reviewed to be sure the service or supply meets established guidelines and is a covered benefit under your plan. This is called "utilization review."

The plan follows specific rules to help make your health a top concern during reviews.

- The plan does not reward reviewers for denying coverage.
- The plan does not encourage denials of coverage. In fact, review staff focuses on the risks of members not getting proper care. Where such use is appropriate, reviewers use nationally recognized guidelines and resources, such as MCG (formerly Milliman Care Guidelines) to review requests for coverage. Physician groups, such as independent practice associations, may use other resources they deem appropriate.
- The plan does not encourage utilization decisions that result in underutilization.

Filing claims

You can download and print a claim form at aetna.com/individuals-families/using-your-aetna-benefits/find-form.html. You can also call Member Services at the number on your ID card to ask for a form. The claim form includes complete instructions including what documentation to send with it.

We determine how and whether a claim is paid based on the terms and conditions of the health coverage plan and our internal coverage policies. See "Knowing what is covered" to learn more about coverage policies.

Information about specific benefits

Emergency and urgent care and care after office hours

An emergency medical condition means your symptoms are sudden and severe. If you don't get help right away, an average person with average medical knowledge will expect you could die or risk your health. For a pregnant woman, that includes her unborn child.

After-hours care – available 24/7

Call your doctor when you have medical questions or concerns. Your doctor should have an answering service if you call after the office closes. You can also go to an urgent care center, which may have limited hours. To find a center near you, log in to aetna.com and search our list of doctors and other health care providers. Check your plan documents to see how much you must pay for urgent care services

Emergency care is covered anytime, anywhere in the world

If you need emergency care, follow these guidelines:

- Call 911 or go to the nearest emergency room.
- You do not have to get approval for emergency services.

How we cover emergency care

When you receive emergency care from a doctor or hospital, you pay your cost share according to your plan. If your doctor bills you for more, you may not have to pay it. Send the bill to the address listed on your member ID card. We will help you determine if you need to pay that bill.

Prescription drug benefit

Check your plan documents to see if your plan includes prescription drug benefits. The following information applies if your self-funded plan provides prescription drug coverage AND the claims for coverage are administered by Aetna.

Some plans encourage generic drugs over brand-name drugs

A generic drug is the same as a brand-name drug in dose, use and form. They are FDA approved and safe to use. Generic drugs usually sell for less; so many plans give you incentives to use generics. That doesn't mean you can't use a brand-name drug, but you'll pay more for it. You'll pay your normal share of the cost, and you'll also pay the difference in the two prices.

Some plans encourage you to buy certain prescription drugs over others

The plan may even pay a larger share for those drugs. Refer to the Aetna Pharmacy Drug Guide (formulary). This guide shows which prescription drugs are covered on a preferred basis. It also explains how the plan chooses medications to be in the guide.

When you get a drug that is not on the preferred drug guide, your share of the cost will usually be more. Check your plan documents to see how much you will pay. You can use those drugs if your plan has an "open formulary," but you'll pay the highest copay under the plan. If your plan has a "closed formulary," those drugs are not covered.

Drug companies may give the plan rebates when you buy certain drugs

The plan may share those rebates with your employer. Rebates usually apply to drugs on the preferred drug guide. They may also apply to drugs not in the guide. In plans where you pay a percentage of the cost, your share of the cost is based on the price of the drug before the plan receives any rebate. Sometimes, in plans where you pay a percentage of the cost instead of a flat dollar amount, you may pay more for a drug in the preferred drug guide than for a drug not in the guide.

Home delivery and specialty drug services are from pharmacies that Aetna owns

Aetna Rx Home Delivery and Aetna Specialty Pharmacy are included in your network and provide convenient options for filling medicine you take every day or specialty medicines that treat complex conditions.

You might not have to stick to the preferred drug guide

Sometimes your doctor might recommend a drug that's not in the preferred drug guide. If it is medically necessary for you to use that drug, you, someone helping you or your doctor can ask the plan to make an exception. Your pharmacist can also ask for an exception for antibiotics and pain medicines. Check your plan documents for details.

You may have to try one drug before you can try another

"Step-therapy" means you may have to try one or more less expensive or more common drugs before a drug on the step-therapy list will be covered. Your doctor might want you to skip one of these drugs for medical reasons. If so, you, someone helping you or your doctor can ask for a medical exception. Your pharmacist can also ask for an exception for antibiotics and pain medicines.

You may request an exception for some drugs that are not covered

Your plan documents might list specific drugs that are not covered. Your plan also may not cover drugs that we haven't reviewed yet. You, someone helping you or your doctor may have to get our approval (a medical exception) to use one of these drugs.

Get a copy of the preferred drug guide

You can find the Aetna Pharmacy Drug Guide (formulary) at aetna.com/formulary/. You can call the toll-free number on your Aetna ID card to ask for a printed copy. The plan occasionally adds new drugs to the guide. Look online or call Member Services for the latest updates.

Have questions? Get answers.

Ask your doctor about specific medications. Call the number on your Aetna ID card to ask about how your plan pays for them. Your plan documents also spell out what's covered and what is not.

Mental health and addiction benefits

The following information applies if your self-funded plan includes mental health services with claims administered by Aetna.

Here's how to get inpatient and outpatient services, partial hospitalization and other mental health services:

- Call 911 if it's an emergency.
- Call the toll-free Behavioral Health number on your Aetna ID card.
- Call Member Services if no other number is listed.
- Employee Assistance Program (EAP) professionals can also help you find a mental health specialist.

Aetna Behavioral Health offers two screening and prevention programs for our members

- Beginning Right® Depression Program: Perinatal and Postpartum Depression Education, Screening and Treatment Referral
- OORS Program: Opioid Overdose Risk Screening Program Call Member Services to learn more about these programs.

Transplants and other complex conditions

Our National Medical Excellence Program® (NME) is for members who need a transplant or have a condition that can only be treated at a certain hospital. You may need to visit an Aetna Institutes of Excellence™ hospital to get coverage for the treatment. Some plans won't cover the service if you don't. We choose hospitals for the NME program based on their expertise and experience with these services. We also follow any state rules when choosing these hospitals.

Important benefits for women

Women's Health and Cancer Rights Act of 1998

If you have had or are going to have a mastectomy, you may be entitled to certain benefits under the Women's Health and Cancer Rights Act of 1998 (WHCRA). For individuals receiving mastectomy-related benefits, coverage will be provided in a manner determined in consultation with the attending physician and the patient, for:

- All stages of reconstruction of the breast on which the mastectomy was performed;
- Surgery and reconstruction of the other breast to produce a symmetrical appearance;

- Prostheses; and
- Treatment of physical complications of the mastectomy, including lymphedema.

Benefits will be provided to a person who has already undergone a mastectomy as a result of breast cancer while covered under a different health plan. Coverage is provided in accordance with your plan design and is subject to plan limitations, copays, deductibles, coinsurance and referral requirements, if any, as outlined in your plan documents. For more information, please contact Member Services at the number on your ID card, or the links below.

No coverage based on U.S. sanctions

If U.S. trade sanctions consider you a blocked person, the plan cannot provide benefits or coverage to you. If you travel to a country sanctioned by the United States, the plan in most cases cannot provide benefits or coverage to you. Also, if your health care provider is a blocked person or is in a sanctioned country, we cannot pay for services from that provider. For example, if you receive care while traveling in another country and the health care provider is a blocked person or is in a sanctioned country, the plan cannot pay for those services. For more information on U.S. Trade sanctions, visit www.treasury.gov/resource-center/sanctions/Pages/default.aspx.

Knowing what is covered

Avoid unexpected bills. Check your plan documents to see what's covered before you get health care. Call Member Services to ask a specific question about what's covered. Can't find your plan documents? Call your employer to have a copy mailed to you.

Here are some of the ways your plan determines what is covered:

Plans only cover medically necessary products and services

Medical necessity is more than being ordered by a doctor. "Medically necessary" means your doctor ordered a product or service for an important medical reason. It might be to help prevent a disease or condition, or to check if you have one. Or it might be to treat an injury or illness.

The product or service:

- Must meet a normal standard for doctors
- Must be the right type in the right amount for the right length of time and for the right body part
- Must be known to help the particular symptom
- Cannot be for the member's or the doctor's convenience
- Cannot cost more than another service or product that is just as effective

Only medical professionals — either within Aetna or in some cases, independent medical reviewers — can decide if a treatment or service is not medically necessary. The plan does not reward medical reviewers for denying coverage. Sometimes a physician's group will determine medical necessity. Those groups might use different resources than Aetna, and so Aetna's decision may differ from your doctor. If a claim for benefits is denied based upon our determination that the service was not medically necessary, you may be able to appeal that denial. See "What to do if you disagree with us" for information on how to complain or file an appeal of a denied claim.

If we deny coverage, you and your doctor will receive a letter. The letter will explain how to appeal the denial. You have the same right to appeal if a physician's group denied coverage. You can call Member Services to ask for a free copy of the materials used to make coverage decisions. Or visit aetna.com/about/cov_det_policies.html to read Aetna coverage policies. Doctors can write or call the Patient Management department with questions. Contact Member Services either online or at the phone number on your Aetna ID card for the appropriate address and phone number.

Aetna uses scientific evidence published in medical journals to help decide what is medically necessary

This is the same information doctors use. We also make sure the product or service is in line with how doctors, who usually treat the illness or injury, use it. We may use nationally recognized resources like MCG (formerly Milliman Care Guidelines).

Aetna reviews the latest medical technology, including drugs, equipment and mental health treatments. Plans also look at new ways to use old technologies. To make decisions, we may:

- Review medical journal research to ensure the product or service is safe and effective.
- See what other medical and government groups say about it. That includes the federal Agency for Healthcare Research and Quality.
- Ask experts.
- Check how often and how successfully it has been used.

You can review Aetna Clinical Policy Bulletins on aetna.com.

You can see published reports about whether products or services are generally eligible for coverage under plans with claims administered by Aetna and when the products or services are determined to be medically necessary. These reports are called Clinical Policy Bulletins (CPBs).

CPBs help the plan decide whether to approve a specific member coverage request. Your plan may not cover everything the CPBs say is medically necessary. Each plan is different, so check your plan documents.

CPBs are not meant to advise you or your doctor on your care. Only your doctor can give you advice and treatment. Talk to your doctor about any CPB related to your coverage or condition.

You and your doctor can read the CPBs at aetna.com. You can find them under "Providers." No Internet? Call Member Services at the toll-free number on your Aetna ID card. Ask for a copy of a CPB for any product or service.

What to do if you disagree with us

Complaints, appeals and external review

Please tell us if you are not satisfied with a response you received from us or with how we do business.

Call Member Services to file a verbal complaint or to ask for the address to mail a written complaint.

The phone number is on your Aetna ID card. You can also email Member Services through the secure member website.

If you're not satisfied after talking to a Member Services representative, you can ask a representative to send your issue to the appropriate complaint department.

If you don't agree with a denied claim, you can file an appeal.

To file an appeal, follow the directions in the letter or explanation of benefits statement that says your claim was denied. The letter also tells you what we need from you and how soon you'll receive a response.

Also refer to your plan documents for: specific information on how to appeal a denied claim; when that appeal can be expedited; a description of the different kinds of appeals and their deadlines for filing appeals; and, whether Aetna, your employer or their delegate makes the decision on your appeal. You may have the right to appeal more than once under your specific plan.

Get a review from someone outside Aetna

If the denial is based on a medical judgment, you may be able to get an outside review if you're not satisfied with your appeal. Follow the instructions on the response to your appeal. Call Member Services to ask for an external review form. You can also visit aetna.com. Enter "external review" into the search bar.

If the reason for your denial is that you are no longer eligible for the plan, or you have appealed after the deadline for doing so under your plan has passed, you may not be able to get an outside review.

In Indiana, visit www.in.gov/idoi/2547.htm for information about how you can file an internal or external grievance.

An independent review organization (IRO) will assign your case to an outside expert. The expert will be a doctor or other professional who specializes in that area or type of appeal. You should have a decision within 45 calendar days of the request. The outside reviewer's decision is final and binding; we will follow the outside reviewer's decision. We will also pay the cost of the review.

A "rush" review may be possible

If your doctor thinks you cannot wait 45 days, ask for an "expedited review." That means the IRO will make its decision as soon as possible.

Rights and responsibilities

Know your rights

You have many legal rights and responsibilities. You have the right to suggest changes in our policies and procedures. This includes our member rights and responsibilities.

Some of your rights are below. We also publish a list of rights and responsibilities on our website. Visit aetna.com/individuals-families/member-rights-resources.html to view the list. You can also call Member Services at the number on your ID card to ask for a printed copy.

Learn about our quality management programs

We make sure your doctor provides quality care for you and your family. To learn more about these programs, including goals and outcomes, go to our website at aetna.com. Enter "Quality Management and Improvement Efforts" in the search bar. You can also call Member Services to ask for a printed copy. The toll-free number is on your Aetna ID card.

Making medical decisions before your procedure

An "advance directive" tells your family and doctors what to do when you can't tell them yourself. You don't need an advance directive to receive care, but you have the right to create one. Hospitals may ask if you have an advance directive when you are admitted.

There are three types of advance directives:

1. Durable power of attorney – name the person you want to make medical decisions for you.
2. Living will – spells out the type and extent of care you want to receive.
3. Do-not-resuscitate order – states you don't want cardiopulmonary resuscitation (CPR) if your heart stops or a breathing tube if you stop breathing.

You can create an advance directive in several ways:

- Ask your doctor for an advance directive form.
- Write your wishes down by yourself.
- Pick up a form at state or local offices on aging, or your local health department.
- Work with a lawyer to write an advance directive.
- Create an advance directive using computer software designed for this purpose.

Your personal information is private

Aetna policies protect your personal information from unlawful use. "Personal information" means information that can identify you as a person, as well as your financial and health information.

Personal information does not include what is available to the public. For example, anyone can access information about what the plan covers. It also does not include reports that do not identify you.

Summary of the Aetna Privacy Policy

When necessary for your care or treatment, the operation of health plans or other related activities, Aetna uses your personal information, or may share it with affiliates and may disclose it to:

- Your doctors, dentists, pharmacies, hospitals and other caregivers
- Other insurers
- Vendors
- Government departments
- Third-party administrators (TPAs) (this includes plan sponsors and/or employers)

These parties are required to keep your information private as required by law.

Some of the ways in which Aetna may use your information include:

- Administering claims
- Making decisions about what the plan covers
- Coordination of payments with other insurers
- Quality assessment
- Activities to improve the plans
- Audits

These activities are key for the operation of your plan. When allowed by law, we use and disclose your personal information in the ways explained above without your permission. The privacy notice includes a complete explanation of the ways your information is used and disclosed. It also explains when the plan will need your permission to use or disclose your information.

The plan is required to give you access to your information. If you think there is something wrong or missing in your personal information, you can ask that it be changed. The plan must complete your request within a reasonable amount of time. If we don't agree with the change, you can file an appeal.

For more information about our privacy notice or if you'd like a copy, call the toll-free number on your Aetna ID card or visit us at aetna.com.

Anyone can get health care

We do not consider your race, disability, religion, sex, sexual orientation, health, ethnicity, creed, age or national origin when giving you access to care. Network providers are legally required to the same.

Your plan must comply with these laws:

- Title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964
- Age Discrimination Act of 1975
- Americans with Disabilities Act
- Laws that apply to those who receive federal funds
- All other laws that protect your rights to receive health care

How your plan uses information about your race, ethnicity and the language you speak

You choose if you want to tell us your race/ethnicity and preferred language. We'll keep that information private. Your plan uses it to help improve your access to health care. We also use it to help serve you better. See "Your personal information is private" to learn more about how the plan uses and protects your private information. See also "Anyone can get health care."

Your rights to enroll later if you decide not to enroll now

When you lose your other coverage

You might choose not to enroll now because you already have health insurance. You may be able to enroll later if you lose that other coverage or if you or your family experiences certain other life events such as divorce, or the death of the family member employed by the plan's sponsor, or if your employer stops contributing to the cost. This includes enrolling your spouse or children and other dependents. If that happens, you must apply within 31 days after your coverage ends (or after the employer stops contributing to the other coverage). Contact Member Services, your employer's human resources department, or check your SPD for more information.

When you have a new dependent

Getting married? Having a baby? A new dependent changes everything. And you can change your mind. You can enroll within 31 days after a life event if you chose not to enroll during the normal open enrollment period. Life events include:

- Marriage
- Birth
- Adoption
- Placement for adoption

Talk to your benefits administrator for more information or to request special enrollment.

Rhode Island All Payer Claims Database (APCD)

The Rhode Island All Payer Claims Database (APCD) provides reports about health care quality, cost and reforms. Policy makers will use it to help them make better decisions regarding health care quality.

All health insurers in Rhode Island will send information to the APCD. To maintain your privacy, we will not send any of the following to the database:

- Your name
- Address
- Social Security number
- Telephone number
- Email address
- Any other information that could identify you

All information collected is anonymous and security is very tight.

It's your right to opt out of the project

If you want to have your information excluded, please go to www.riapcd-optout.com and provide a few facts about yourself. This will ensure we exclude your information correctly. Your rights under the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (ERISA)

As a participant in an employer-funded group health plan, you are entitled to certain rights and protections under ERISA. Some of those rights are listed below. Your rights are outlined in more detail in your plan documents as described in the beginning of this booklet. See “Understanding your plan of benefits” and “Where to find information about your specific plan.” You have the right to:

- Receive, free of charge, information about your plan and benefits.
- Upon written request to your plan administrator, examine copies of documents governing the operation of the plan, contracts, collective bargaining agreements, annual reports and more. The administrator may charge you a reasonable copy fee.
- Receive a copy of procedures used to determine a qualified domestic relation or medical child support order.

- Continue group health coverage for you, your spouse or dependents if there is a loss of coverage as the result of a qualifying event.
- Know why a claim was denied.
- Exercise your rights, and take steps to enforce your rights, without discrimination or retribution.
- Get answers to your questions about the plan. See “Get plan information online and by phone” in this booklet for details. Contact your plan administrator with questions about your plan. If they do not provide the information you request, you can get help from the nearest office of the Employee Benefits Security Administration, U.S. Department of Labor, listed in your telephone directory. You may also write to:

Aetna is committed to Accreditation by the National Committee for Quality Assurance (NCQA) as a means of demonstrating a commitment to continuous quality improvement and meeting customer expectations. A complete list of health plans and their NCQA status can be found on the NCQA website located at <http://reportcard.ncqa.org>.

To refine your search, we suggest you search these areas:

1. Health Plans – for HMO and PPO health plans and
2. Health Care Providers– for physicians recognized by NCQA in the areas of Physician Practice Connections, Physician Practice Connections-Patient Centered Medical Home, Patient Centered Medical Home, Heart/Stroke, Diabetes, and Patient Center Specialty Practice. Providers, in all settings, achieve recognition by submitting data that demonstrate they are providing quality care. The program constantly assesses key measures that were carefully defined and tested for their relationship to improved care; therefore, NCQA provider recognition is subject to change.
3. Other Health Care Organizations –
 - Filter your search by “Managed Behavioral Healthcare Organizations” - for behavior health accreditation
 - Filter your search by “Credentials” - for credentialing certification
